

“Pro Bono” Assistance?

Most people cannot afford to pay someone to research their genealogy. Yet, they still have a vested interest in their genealogical roots.

That’s why I’ve chosen to help some with basic online research. Research is time-consuming, so pro-bono assistance is limited. Initial successes depend on the information clients are able to provide at the onset.

However, with today’s online resources, anyone can get started, and that is where MyRoots2Me can help. I hold a Certificate in Genealogical Research from Boston University, and I want to help others get started!

Please email me with your request, with an explanation of what you are looking to discover, and contact information. Maybe I can help!

With “Pro-Bono Request” in the subject line, send your request to:
myroots2me@outlook.com

You will receive a response to your request within 48hrs.
